

Sex Offenders: The MDT Response to Crimes Against Children With Cory Jewell Jensen, M.S. CCSOT

Sex crime investigators, criminal justice professionals, probation officers, child welfare workers and advocates should be familiar with theories about the etiology of pedophilia and development of pro-offending attitudes, plus typical patterns of sexual offending committed by both juvenile and adult sex offenders. We'll examine (via film clips of interviews with various types of sex offenders) some of the specific strategies offenders report using to target, seduce, and exploit children and adults. Information was collected from approximately 1,600 sex offenders who were involved in long-term, court mandated sex offender treatment. We'll review Oregon's grassroots prevention project - "Protecting our Children: Advice From Child Molesters." Initially developed by two veteran sex offender treatment providers, "PYC" has grown into a multi-state, multi-disciplinary child abuse prevention campaign. We'll also examine the relationship between confession rates and sex offender characteristics (ie., offender age, relationship to victim, personality type, offense history, & prior experience with the criminal justice system). We will review several studies investigating the effectiveness of various interviewer styles (investigator demeanor & approach). The presentation will include anecdotal comments (from 121 admitting adult male sex offenders) related to the thoughts and concerns they had while they were initially being interviewed by detectives.
